

A photograph of three students walking in a bright, modern hallway. On the left is a young woman with long brown hair wearing a blue and white striped shirt and blue jeans. In the middle is a young woman with long blonde hair wearing a black crop top, a light grey cardigan, and black pants. On the right is a young man with short black hair wearing a white turtleneck, a grey and black striped coat, and black pants. He is gesturing with his hands as if speaking. The hallway has large windows on the left and a clean, white floor.

Introduction

At IE University, our Talent & Careers team's mission is to enhance and secure student success. By staying on top of the latest industry trends and insights, and forming collaborative relationships with world-leading employers, IE Talent & Careers help alumni find their place in the professional world.

We take great pride in showcasing the professional accomplishments of the Class of 2022 from our Master in International Relations. Against a challenging economic backdrop, our worldwide recruiting outreach has proven effective at providing opportunities for candidates who have a broad understanding of today's global landscape. Through hands-on, immersive learning, they have gained specialized knowledge to navigate this complex space and stand out against the competition. Geopolitical, technological, and socio-economic advancements have broken down traditional barriers in our increasingly interconnected world. In this climate of change, international companies, governments and nonprofits are looking for multidisciplinary leaders who can go beyond borders to offer impactful and sustainable solutions to complex problems.

The Master in International Relations is carefully curated to train tomorrow's leaders in the evolving and complex dynamics that are shaping global affairs. Through a highly practical and globally focused methodology, it provides them with the concepts and tools required to lead government agencies, corporations, civil bodies, and multilateral organizations effectively in a fast-changing environment.

Just how effectively it works has been demonstrated by some outstanding outcomes for the Class of 2022. Six months after graduation, 98% of job seekers received an offer. What's more, those who joined the program looking to redirect their career trajectory found success too, with 49% of the graduates changing sectors.

In doing so well, our alumni have also joined some of the leading corporate, government and nonprofit organizations in the world. Some of the institutions that our graduates have entered include UNESCO, the UNHCR, the World Food Programme, the Organization of American States, the UN Development Programme, the World Trade Organization, the UNSSC, Deloitte, PricewaterhouseCoopers and the UN Office of Counter-Terrorism.

Thanks to our university's reputation among global political organizations, many of our alumni go on to work in European institutions, with 61% deciding to stay in Europe. But wherever they sought work, doors opened to them; 88% of the class changed locations in their career compared to before the program.

Meanwhile, with entrepreneurship being a core IE University value, it's no surprise that many of our students have started their own companies after graduating.

At IE School of Global & Public Affairs, we strive to untangle the intricacies of complex global relationships through higher education. Future world leaders must move beyond a single discipline to acquire skills and knowledge in a broad range of subject areas. From day one, students are trained to think critically so that they can devise effective solutions to social, economic, political and environmental challenges. This pragmatic and analytical mindset gives our graduates a head start in the job market, allowing them to jump-start their careers at top international organizations. These graduates follow in the footsteps of predecessors who make up an impressive global network of over 70,000 IE University alumni. Based in more than 100 countries around the globe, our alumni hold high-level positions in varying industries and leading organizations within the public, private and non-profit sectors. A huge congratulations to all graduates and we look forward to following your career progression!

Associate at Boston Consulting Group (BCG)

"My experience at IE really helped me to grow at a professional level, especially due to the practical approach of learning and the team-based working environment with colleagues from diverse nationalities and backgrounds. The combination of both the MIM and the MIR allowed me to learn both from the private business world and the public sphere, learning about how to make an impact through different agents and at a global scale. Moreover, in the program I was able to make life-lasting connections, becoming part of a talented network that has helped me to boost my career towards my current position."
